

Do chains from different initial constitutions converge?

